

Hello,

no government politician or agency should have any say or sway in deciding what is true or not true.

the role of government should be only to support the education sector to make sure individuals have the background knowledge and critical thinking skills to decide for themselves on the truthfulness of what they read.

Thanks for the opportunity to provide feedback.

Kind Regards

